Let's keep supporting local

You're the best. It feels good when someone says that. You have the best restaurant, the best barber shop, the best landscaping business. If just validates all of that hard work you've put in over the years, all the sacrifices you made. That's the best part of The Farmville Herald's Readers' Choice awards. We get to see the results from thousands of votes (and I do mean thousands. A total of 37,868 people spoke up to share their choice this year).

And these people, they didn't just cast a vote and forget about it. I've seen people posting on Facebook and Twitter, encouraging other people to support their choice. That's the other thing great about these awards. Nobody's shy about who they picked. In the voting alone, dozens of shops and stores got exposed, possibly some for the first time, to new faces.

Brian Carlton
Editor

Maybe you're learning about some of downtown Farmville's restaurants for the first time. Maybe it's a certain shop you see in here and decide to check out. Every year, we open up the nominations in May and then step back and let people have at it.

Now, to be clear, this isn't a scientific study. We didn't use any complicated formula to determine the results. These are ranked based on the number of votes each group received. You may agree with some, disagree with others and a couple might catch you by surprise.

But regardless if your favorite won or made the Favorite rankings, I'd ask you not to stop here. Don't stop promoting your favorite places. When you're proud of something a school did, talk them up to people. That's a great way we can help local operations, by serving as their cheering section.
